

General Assistants wanted. Must scrub up well.

EICA:Ratho

£13,050 - £13,581

In this job, it's not just your personality that needs to sparkle. Because being a General Assistant isn't as glamorous as some people think. Keeping the world's largest indoor climbing arena clean is as important a part of the job as delivering great customer service. So, if mopping and polishing isn't your scene, maybe you should think again. It would be a pity though, because being a General Assistant is a very fulfilling job. The work is hands on and varied, ranging from general cleaning of the facility to setting up equipment and dealing with first aid emergencies. What's more, Edinburgh Leisure offers one of the best rewards packages in the industry, with generous holiday allowance, pension and free use of all of our 30 centres. So arise and shine.
